Capital's Financiers at Annual Dinner Discuss Fiscal Bills Passed.

NCOME TAX A LEMON

Senator Hollis Optimistic-Senator Shafroth Speaks Nation's Ambition-Money Men Merry.

The monetary measures of the administration were amiably "roasted" on the favors and even in the menu by members of the District Bankers' Association at their annual dinner in the Willard last night, but it was evident that if the report is true that the financiers of the country are unfriendly to the new-born currency law and the tariff measure, the money merchants of the District must be excepted.

The sorbet literally procliamed the income tax law to be a lemon of the brightest yellow and on the "stage money" with which the tables were decorated it was branded "just one blank after another," while shoals ahead were predicted for the banks from the currency law. But when several speakers who have had a hand in the making of these measures told of the virtues contained in them they were cheered and applauded to the echo by every one of the 215 Washington financiers who dined.

and applauded to the echo by every one of the 215 Washington financiers who dined.

Senator Henry F. Hollis, of New Hampshire, predicted an era of great financial peace as a result of the currency law, and the local bankers seemed to agree with him. Senator John F. Shaffoth, of Colorado, said that there is starting a movement in favor of banking institutions in the United States that would make the country the center of the finances of the world, and the diners made vociferous assent to the prediction.

A Defense of Wall Street.

A Defense of Wall Street.

The other speakers were William C. Van Antwerp, one of the governors of the New York Stock Exchange, who came to the defense of that body and of Wall Street in an address on "The Popular Damnation of the Stock Exchange," and who incidentally administered some stinging slaps to the report of the Pujo committee, and Carter B. Keene, director of the postal saving system, who told of the work this governmental banking system is doing with the immigrants into the United States.

The banquet was held in the big bailroom, and besides the card of interesting speakers, the surprises in the favors and decorations provided by John Poole, of the banquet committee, and the two other members, George W. White and William A. Mearns, the diners had a section of the Marine Band and an excellent cabaret to amuse them during the four hours of relaxation.

Senator Hollis was the first speaker.

He took the floor following a moving picture reel depicting the adventures of "Col. Hezza Liar in Africa," and he "Col. He took up the story of the long fight on the drafting of the currency bill, explained

"There has been an example of a too rigid currency in Washington in the last few months and I imagine there are those here who hare laid awake to won-der what would happen if one bank should really go down."

No Miracles to Be Expected. The New Hampshire Senator dwelt in detail on the worthy points of the new law, but warned his listeners that the country must not expect miracles from the law. He predicted an era of prosperity under the new order of things, "because for a couple of years or more the people have been fright-ened and have been saving." The Washington bankers showed the director of the mint. Senator Shafroth Praises Bill. Senator Shafroth dealt with the new opinion. The first was that instead of leaving the reserve of the country scattered, it will be concentrated in eight or, at the most, twelve cities, and that instead of having the bulk of the country's money in New York, it will be in districts to which it belongs. Then he said that the creation of a dis-count market would prove a boom to count market would prove a boom to bankers as well as to the country. He said that with the independent methods of banking in force heretofore, panics were inevitable. The promised elasticity of the currency was the third virtue Senator Shafroth saw in the currency measure. Van Antwerp took exception to al of the statements made by the Committee relative to the extent Street speculations. He denied the fig-ures given in the Pujo report, holding that the money held by the street to be much less than the street was given credit for. Carter B. Keene held up the postal savings system as the friend of the immigrant, saying that it had drawn out money from the timid foreigners that they would never have trusted to the coffers of the banks.

Secretary Garrison Says the Canal Builder Will Be Offered Governorship.

MAY HAVE HIS CHOICE

War Chief Scorns Report that Colone Will Accept New York Police

New York, Jan. 3t.—Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of War, tonight said that he did not believe Col. George W. Goethals would become police commissioner of New York City, Mr. Garrison said he based his belief not on any action which might be taken by the War Department, but upon the letter written by Col. Goethals to Mayor Mitchel.

"I am unable to construe this letter as a promise to assume the police commissionership," said Mr. Garrison. "My personal opinion is that Col. Goethals future work should be in the successful operation of the canal which he has built, but if it is his desire to become police commissioner, I certainly shall not stand in his light. Col. Goethals should be allowed to choose his own course. There never has been the slightest question but that Col. Goethals would be offered the post of governor of the Zone. The work of reorganising the canal system is going on now, and only the large amount of detail work has prevented its being completed."

This was the construction put on Coj. Goethala' letter to the mayor by the ma-jority. It was felt that Col. Goethala would prefer to remain as governor of the canal, but refrained from expressing this desire until the position has been tendered

The new civil government in the Panama Canal Zone will be put into The new civil government in the Panama Canal Zone will be put into effect by President Wilson within sixty days. It is the intertion of the administration to appoint Col. George W. According to present plans this will be January

A careful reading of Col. Goethals' let ter to Mayor Mitchel by his friefds in Washington have convinced them that Col. Goethals never contemplated leaving the Canal Zone to accept the police commissionership until the great waterway missionership until the great waterway formally was opened. The confusion that has arisen in regard to Col. Goethals' acceptance of the police commissionership seems to be due chiefly to an idea that if appointed governor of the Canal Zone it would be for a term of four or
